請回答第47.題至第50.題：

Male-female conversation is cross-cultural communication. 47. And women and men have different past experiences. From the time they are born, they are treated differently, talked to differently, and talk differently as a result. 48. And when they become adults, they travel in different worlds, reinforcing patterns established in childhood. These cultural differences include different expectations about the role of talk in relationships.

Everyone knows that as a relationship becomes long-term, its terms change. 49. Many women feel, "After all this time, you should know what I want without my telling you." Many men feel, "After all this time, we should be able to tell each other what we want."

These incongruent expectations capture one of the key differences between men and women. 50. Though everyone has both these needs, women often have a relatively
