三、克漏字測驗 (請依照段落上下文意, 選出最適當的答案)

E-mail, or electronic mail, is the primary mode of written communication in today's business world. The benefits are many. Information can be 41 quickly: ask a question via e-mail and you are likely to receive an 42 answer. E-mails are casual in language and format. E-mail is easy to manage— move it to an electronic file, save it in auxiliary memory, or 43 it altogether. Most e-mail is left on the computer, but if necessary, you can print a hard copy.

The number of e-mails you receive can also be 44. Depending on your job, you may receive 100 e-mail messages each day. You have to read each one quickly, then decide what to do with it. Some will contain useful information, others may require a response, and 45 can probably be deleted once they are read. The messages you keep should be filed electronically to minimize clutter in your e-mail in box.

四、閱讀測驗

Dear Sirs,

When I visited the Omaha Business Show last week, I saw your new Harrison-Fisher Laser Jet 4 printer. I think this printer would meet the need of many of my customers.

I would like to order three LJ4s on 60-credit terms and at the same time establish similar terms for future purchases up to $5,000 monthly. As I understand it, the printer is priced at $1,100 plus $50 for transportation, terminal checkout, and one ream of paper. This means that my first order would amount to $3,450.

The Computer Place was established two years ago, and since that time we have grown very rapidly. My associates and I are convinced that the services and equipment we offer will be in increasing demand as businesses discover that only by applying sophisticated technology to their operations can they remain competitive.

For information concerning our financial responsibility and promptness in paying our obligations, I refer you to the following:

First National Bank, 106 East Mitchell Street, Wichita KS 67202

Rotec, Inc., 6200 Newman Avenue, Huntington Beach, CA92647

Allied Data Associates, 4406 Cromwell Drive, El Paso, TX 79912

Winthrop Systems, 16536 Brick Avenue North, Seattle, WA 98133

If you would like additional financial information, I will be glad to supply it.

Very truly yours
